

two-sided p: twice the share of d_b with the sign opposite to the observed one. If the interval does not contain zero, the difference is significant at 5 %.